BASEBALL

Twin Towns 19; Clinton 1

The All-Stars from Clinton, Mass., a brace of fast semi-pros barnstorming the state were completely routed at the fair grounds. Twin Towns administered the worst walloping the Bay Staters have received this season.

Until the third inning everything moved like clock work and a close game was predicted. In this session a hitting bee and daring base stealing upset the Pastimers and the Twins romped around the bases at will. The visitors were in line to retrieve their reputation until the fatal fifth, when nine runs scooped on a brace of two and three sackers settled the argument. Paynter, who hurled for the Norway-Paris aggregation, was a puzzle. He kept safe hits widely scattered and had excellent support. King, the Clinton south paw, hurled a good game but was not able to pass up the stuff that fools the batters. The score:

Twin Towns 6; Athletics 0

Billy White's Twin Towns blanked the Athletics and won their first game in the Inter-State League at Lewiston, Monday afternoon.

"Chick" Hayes, the old standby on the Norway-Paris outfit hurled a gilt-edged article and had his opponents on the grid-iron. Errorless support made a combination not moved by any forces Pat French could muster. "Chick" held the Lewiston sluggers to a pair of bingles, and a three sacker from the walloping Buck Gaudette.

For the Twins, Whalen led the batting with three safeties closely followed by Robinson, Perry and Jackson. Seven of the team secured at least one safety. Score:

Fourth of July Baseball

The Twin Town Athletic Association will celebrate Independence Day with two ball games at Oxford County fair grounds.

West Paris will oppose Twin Towns at 10:30 a. m. The West Paris team will go on the field in full strength and endeavor to make it interesting for the Twins and the side lines. Probably Bacon or Benson will twirl for the visitors.

In the afternon at 3:30 o'clock Twin Town will face the Boston Tigers. Last August this team composed of colored players defeated the local crowd, 8 to 4, after one of the hardest fought battles. They are a flashy outfit and know real baseball.

Norway-Paris Band will play during both games. The refreshment booth will cater with cool drinks and smokes. Picnic parties may find restful shade near a spring, and there is ample space for parking.

Lovers of good baseball will not pass up this sporting event. Games start on standard time.

IN PASSING

There's no town like the old town,
The town that once we knew.
There are no friends like the old friends;
The friends who are tried and true.
The town is there—
The friends are there—
Ah then! But where are you?
There's no pond like the old pond,
The pond where we used to skate;
There's no lane like the old lane,
Down which we wandered late.
The pond is there—
The road is there—
And even the well loved gate.
There's no hill like the old hill,
The hill where we used to slide,
There's no road like the old road,
The road where we oft did ride.
The hill is there—
The road is there—
But ah! The world is wide.
There are no days like the old days,
The days of the long ago;
There are no folks like the old folks,
The folks that we used to know.
The days are gone—
The folks are gone—
Alas! We too must go.

Huston-Cummings

One of the most brilliant of recent weddings was that of Saturday afternoon, June 28, at Norway, when Ruth Cummings became the bride of Thomas McColl Huston of Portland. The ceremony took place at the Norway Universalist Church at 3 o'clock. Rev. Chester Gore Miller officiated, using the single ring service of the Episcopalian Church.

Decorations of the church were in charge of Frank H. Beck, and consisted largely of ferns and wild flowers. The Schubert Trio of Lewiston played several selections as the guests were assembling. As the bridal party entered, the wedding march from Lohengrin was played, and as a recessional after the ceremony, Mendelssohn's wedding march. Miss Edith L. Huston, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Leotine Stiles, Mrs. Iona Brown, Miss Helen Yorke, Mrs. Mary Mealand Stone, Miss Marion Haskell and Miss Ruth Akers.

The bride's gown was of white satin back crepe, with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was in hydrangea blue georgette with corn flower trimmings, and carried a bouquet of corn flowers and sweet peas. The bridesmaids were in apricot, pink, blue, green, orchid and yellow, and carried arm bouquets of roses.

John Brown Payson of Portland was best man. The ushers were Stephen Jordan Cummings, brother of the bride, Daniel True, Waldo Hammett, Stanley Bailey, Nathan Clifford of Portland, and H. Walter Brown of Norway. The flower girls were Lois and Laura Susan Frissell of Gardner, Mass.

A reception followed immediately, at the home of the bride's parents. The house decorations were in peonies and larkspur. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, the mother of the bride in a gown of black georgette, beaded with jet and sapphire blue beads; the mother of the groom, in black lace, the maid of honor and the bridesmaids. Fully two hundred guests offered congratulations. Pooler of Portland catered, and delicious refreshments were served. The apartment on the second floor, where Mr. and Mrs. Huston will keep house, was open to the guests, and the gifts were displayed there.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Cummings, one of Norway's well known families. She is a graduate of Norway High School, class of 1914, and of the Faelton Pianoforte School of Boston. She has been very successful with a large class of pianoforte pupils, and as pianist and accompanist, throughout the State, having appeared in concert work with Charles Harrison and Miss Helen Yorke. One of her successes was at the Maine Music Festival whens he accompanied Miss Yorke. She is a member of the First Universalist Church, and of Oxford Chapter, Order Eastern Star.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston of Portland. He was educated in the schools of Portland and at St. Luke's Academy at Wayne, Pa. During the World War he was in overseas service with the Canadian forces. He is a member of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Portland, and of William H. Stone Post, American Legion of Norway. He is employed as bond salesman for H. M. Payson & Co., Portland.

ARTHUR E. FORBES, Treas.

The note of $275.00 represents the total deficit plus interest accumulating over a series of years. Sunday services have been largely responsible for shrinkage. Excepting last year, the collections have not covered the expenses. This overdraft not only absorbed a small balance saved from the regular Chautauqua income but encumbered the Association with a note. Last season the Sunday service was self supporting. This year the dates will not include a Sunday gathering.

The nominating committee presented a list of officers who were unaninously elected.

Pres.—Eugene N. Swett.
Vice Pres.—Albert D. Park, Nelson G. Elder, Zeb. L. Merchant, Geo. F. Eastman.
Sec.—Philip F. Stone.
Treas.—Arthur E. Forbes.
Supt. of Grounds—Chas. W. Bowker.

Pres. Swett, chairman of the ticket committee reported that 683 season tickets have been subscribed and practically that number will be taken when the canvass was made. Five hundred tickets covers the guarantee, and the surplus should about cover Chatauqua expenses. This with anticipated revenue may absorb the note and leave a small balance. The thing can be done with everybody pulling together.

Philip F. Stone, who attended a meeting of representatives from state-wide Community Chautauqua held at Portland, brought out a number of suggestions dropped at that conference. Incorporating was considered good business for efficiency and legalizing the transactions. The matter was left with A. J. Stearns, Esq., who will report at a future meeting. Opinions varied about the method of securing ticket pledges but the system we have been using seemed the popular way. Locally, the "suction" process of securing pledges with pleadings in the midst of the evening program is objectionable to many. Some other way to guarantee tickets may be devised, possibly the "block" system may be considered. In this case one hundred each sign for five or more season tickets without confusion or a long drawn out argument and coaxing.

Assessing small annual dues on the guarantors was suggested at the Portland conference. This might give a local Association some additional income. This was not considered advisable at the local meeting.

Mrs. Lizzie McAllister is assistig with the housework at W. H. Briggs', Floral Lawn Farm in Harrison.

Mrs. Martena Richardson of North Lovell has been visiting friends in town.

Carl Schenk spent Friday and that night with his son, Richard Dietrich, at Auburn. Mr. Schenk made the trip comfortably on the bus and trolly.

Charles E. Bradford has rearranged the machines in his laundry to accommodate a growing business from summer camps. A new 100 inch ironer, steam heated was installed this week. This machine occupies a floor space 7x9 feet, and is up to date in every way. New machines for speedy work on collars and cuffs are part of the new equipment.

Mrs. Ralph Andrews and daughter will spend the Fourth with friends in Portland.

Mrs. Florence Dawes of Bridgton Ridge is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Kimball.

Dixfield won over Berlin, N. H., Wednesday, with a score 2—1 and leads in the Inter—State League. Dixfield will make their first appearance here Thursday, July 10, and a merry time may be expected.

Mrs. Fred E. Drake went to Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass., Monday, to be with her sister, Mrs. Howard Winchester, who is still ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knight and family, and several friends of Manchester, Mass., are at the Weymouth, Dr. F. E. Drake's cottage, for the summer. Mrs. Knight is keeping house for Dr. Drake while Mrs. Drake is away.

Mrs. George F. Hill has returned from a trip to Boston.

Frolics at the Rex

Manager Wm. E. DeCroteau presented the fourth group of local performers in the Norway Frolics at Rex Theatre, Monday evening. Only one appearance was given before a good sized crowd, considering other attractions of a popular nature.

A good line of acrobatics was displayed by the Dubec Brothers. Strong arm stunts, hand balancing and hand springs were featured. They secured second prize.

Fred M. Davis of Norway, a familiar figure in the spot light entertained as a wandering minstrel. He cracked jokes, told a few stories, and closed with a song, accompanied by a banjo.

An original dancing and musical act should find a place on big time. Lyman Herrick danced to the music of F. M. Davis, piano; Steve Kimball, violin, and Mr. Buswell, bones. Herrick impersonated a Spanish dancer introducing steps copied from the hippodrome ballet and fair ground girlie entertainers. To the ascetic, this classic expressed the emotions of a mermaid during a hurricane at sea, while grosser mortals feasted largely on the costume of bandanna handkerchiefs. The fact that the Dancing Dervish and orchestra were speeeding on different gears was not detrimental to the success of this portrayal of Nero at the burning of Rome. For quantity and vehemence the act deserved three prizes but somehow escaped that honor.

Manager DeCroteau announced Country Store Night for next Monday evening when every patron should carry a market basket. Groceries are to be given away by lucky numbers.

Aggies Completed Tour of Inspection

Fourteen members of the Agricultural class at Norway High School with the instructor, Prof. Edward H. Brown, completed a three days' tour of inspection to Vermont and Canada. Eleven boys and a complete camp equipment were transported by Forrest Longley in a truck, the other boys were carried in Prof. Brown's car.

The party camped a mile from St. Johnsbury the first night, and after supper attended a band concert nad the movies. A thunder shower broke over camp before daylight, keeping the boys awake and on the jump, hunting for dry shelter. Everything in their outfit excepting enthusiasm was water soaked.

After breakfast they hit the trail toward the Derby line and passed alongside Willowby Lake. Credentials were procured at the custom house, allowing an entrance into Canada. That day was spent inspecting dairy farms and looking over many interesting agricultural items. Some time was passed at Sherbrooke, after which they headed for the States, leaving the credentials at the line house.

The second night found the party six miles from North Stratford alongside the Colebrook road. This was a comfortable spot with a cook house and other conveniences. Everybody was dead tired and hit the hay early. Sleep lost the previous night was made up in spite of chilly air from the mountains.

Camp was broken the next morning at 6:30 and the trail lead through Colebrook, N. H., Errol, N. H., and Wilson's Mills. All visited Aziscoos Dam where several photographs were snapped. An hour or so was passed inspecting the natural wonders at Screw Auger Falls and Moose Cave in Grafton. Home was reached via Bethel and thus ended the 400 mile trail, complete with thrills, pleasure and instruction.

Copious field notes were made at prominent farms visited, and of crop conditions along the route. These will be used in conjunction with class work the coming year.

Cyrus Hamlin Witt

Cyrus Hamlin Witt, aged 91 years, 4 months and 4 days, died Thursday, June 26, in his home at 42 Florence Street, Worcester, Mass. He was employed 25 years with the Crompton-Knowles Loom Works.

He was born in Norway, son of Benjamin and Celia (Churchill) Witt. He was a member of the Norway lodge of Odd Fellows. Ridgley lodge of Odd Fellows gave their ritual at the grave.

The funeral was held Saturday at 10.30 and was private. Burial was in Hope Cemetery. He leaves a widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Ramsdell of Worcester, and three grandchildren.

The Bassett Cottage in Ruins

Fire Thursday morning at 4.15 destroyed the cottage and most of the furnishings in the Bassett Cottage on Main Street. A small insurance, carried with Stuart W. Goodwin Agency, will not cover the loss on buildings and contents.

The cottage was a story and a half with seven rooms located between Albert P. Bassett's residence and the Upper Primary schoolhouse. This was built by Mr. Bassett about thirty-five years ago and used for roomers, until about three years ago, John LaForte leased the premises.

The occupants were out of town for the holiday at the time of the fire, and the cause of the blaze is not yet determined. Fire was discovered in the shed and rear of the cottage. When the department reached the spot, flames had spread throughout the entire structure and confined there by a metal roof. The schoolhouse, within ten feet of the cottage, was unharmed, but the rear of Fred H. Cummings' green house was charred, but not badly damaged. There was no wind and the firemen directed their attention to the immediate blaze. What is left of the cottage and contents is thoroughly water soaked.

Gordon Noyes, who has been spending a few days in town, went to Orono, Saturday, to attend the seven week summer school.

SOUTH PARIS

Quiet Club Made the Woods Ring

A week end trip of the Quiet Club to D. E. Bean's camp in Newry was a success, and called together thirty-three members in one of the quiet times for which the club is famous.

The party left South Paris early Saturday afternoon and arrived at the camp in season to prepare supper before twilight and assign sleeping quarters. Camp Mountain View was the center of industry and from camps on Wight brook, owned by Mrs. Fred Wight, were engaged to care for the overflow.

Saturday evening, both men and women pitched horseshoes until dark, then all gathered around a roaring camp fire, with pop corn, songs and stories. An inquisitive porcupne mixed up in the sports, but was frightened away by the "stillness" and quaker-like attitude of the members. Many surmise the animal is running still with the "stillness" ringing in his ears. Trees and camps were decorated with signs so no bureau of information was necessary.

As usual Albert D. Park led in the quiet and solemn rites characteristic of the Main street band. Natives living several miles up river are said to have prepared for the end of the world, feeling confident Gabriel was on the way that Saturday night.

The weather on Sunday was gloomy and not the best kind for vacationists, but the party made the best of these conditions and kept smiling. Even the children appeared contented although unable to roam the woods for wild flowers.

All gathered Sunday morning in Mountain View Camp for an old fashioned song service. Favorite hymns were rendered with enthusiasm and spirit. It mattered little if the voices were not cultivated, the uplifting influence was there.

Meals during the trip were served cafateria style and the families pooled their interests on one common table. A little planning before the event was responsible for a delicious menu, attractive to all tastes and of sufficient quantity.

All are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Bean for their hospitality, and to Mrs. Fred Wight of Newry, who provided comfortable quarters in her camps and in many ways took a personal interest.

The party included, A. F. Goldsmith and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hunter of Strong, Sanford M. Brown and family, Donald P. Chapman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Holden, L. W. Titus and family, Donald H. Bean and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Park, Mrs. Marcia Millett, Miss Gladys Ross and Miss Carolyn Gray.

BASEBALL

The All-Stars from Clinton, Mass., a brace of fast semi-pros barnstorming the state were completely routed at the fair grounds. Twin Towns administered the worst walloping the Bay Staters have received this season.

Until the third inning everything moved like clock work and a close game was predicted. In this session a hitting bee and daring base stealing upset the Pastimers and the Twins romped around the bases at will. The visitors were in line to retrieve their reputation until the fatal fifth, when nine runs scooped on a brace of two and three sackers settled the argument. Paynter, who hurled for the Norway-Paris aggregation, was a puzzle. He kept safe hits widely scattered and had excellent support. King, the Clinton south paw, hurled a good game but was not able to pass up the stuff that fools the batters. The score:

Twin Towns 6; Athletics 0

Billy White's Twin Towns blanked the Athleties and won their first game in the Inter-State League at Lewiston, Monday afternoon.

"Chick" Hayes, the old standby on the Norway-Paris outfit hurled a gilt-edged article and had his opponents on the grid-iron. Errorless support made a combination not moved by any forces Pat French could muster. "Chick" held the Lewiston sluggers to a pair of bingles, and a three sacker from the walloping Buck Gaudette.

For the Twins, Whalen led the batting with three safeties closely followed by Robinson, Perry and Jackson. Seven of the team secured at least one safety. Score:

Fourth of July Baseball

The Twin Town Athletic Association will celebrate Independence Day with two ball games at Oxford County fair grounds.

West Paris will oppose Twin Towns at 10:30 a. m. The West Paris team will go on the field in full strength and endeavor to make it interesting for the Twins and the side lines. Probably Bacon or Benson will twirl for the visitors.

In the afternon at 3:30 o'clock Twin Town will face the Boston Tigers. Last August this team composed of colored players defeated the local crowd, 8 to 4, after one of the hardest fought battles. They are a flashy outfit and know real baseball.

Norway-Paris Band will play during both games. The refreshment booth will cater with cool drinks and smokes. Picnic parties may find restful shade near a spring, and there is ample space for parking.

Lovers of good baseball will not pass up this sporting event. Games start on standard time.

IN PASSING

There's no town like the old town,
The town that once we knew.
There are no friends like the old friends;
The friends who are tried and true.
The town is there—
The friends are there—
Ah then! But where are you?

There's no pond like the old pond,
The pond where we used to skate;
There's no lane like the old lane,
Down which we wandered late.
The pond is there—
The road is there—
And even the well loved gate.

There's no hill like the old hill,
The hill where we used to slide,
There's no road like the old road,
The road where we oft did ride.
The hill is there—
The road is there—
But ah! The world is wide.

There are no days like the old days,
The days of the long ago;
There are no folks like the old folks,
The folks that we used to know.
The days are gone—
The folks are gone—
Alas! We too, must go.

The case was continued until Friday when five officers from Massachusetts accompanied by an auto insurance inspector took the boys back to that state. The expense to the County was over $166.00, this was payed by the inspector. The prisoners were rounded up between Gilead and West Bethel and were between the ages of 15 and 20 years.

Grover C. Yates of North Norway was fined $10 for improper auto registration.

Patrick H. Rogers and Daniel Mahoney both of Norway, were acquitted of the charge of fishing in a closed brook. Rogers was found guilty of fishing without a license and settled a fine of $5.

Robert Stuart of Rumford was bound over to the Grand Jury, charged with jail escape.

Huston-Cummings

One of the most brilliant of recent weddings was that of Saturday afternoon, June 28, at Norway, when Ruth Cummings became the bride of Thomas McColl Huston of Portland. The ceremony took place at the Norway Universalist Church at 3 o'clock. Rev. Chester Gore Miller officiated, using the single ring service of the Episcopalian Church.

Decorations of the church were in charge of Frank H. Beck, and consisted largely of ferns and wild flowers. The Schubert Trio of Lewiston played several selections as the guests were assembling. As the bridal party entered, the wedding march from Lohengrin was played, and as a recessional after the ceremony, Mendelssohn's wedding march. Miss Edith L. Huston, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Leotine Stiles, Mrs. Iona Brown, Miss Helen Yorke, Mrs. Mary Mealand Stone, Miss Marion Haskell and Miss Ruth Akers.

The bride's gown was of white satin back crepe, with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was in hydrangea blue georgette with corn flower trimmings, and carried a bouquet of corn flowers and sweet peas. The bridesmaids were in apricot, pink, blue, green, orchid and yellow, and carried arm bouquets of roses.

John Brown Payson of Portland was best man. The ushers were Stephen Jordan Cummings, brother of the bride, Daniel True, Waldo Hammett, Stanley Bailey, Nathan Clifford of Portland, and H. Walter Brown of Norway. The flower girls were Lois and Laura Susan Frissell of Gardner, Mass.

A reception followed immediately, at the home of the bride's parents. The house decorations were in peonies and larkspur. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, the mother of the bride in a gown of black georgette, beaded with jet and sapphire blue beads; the mother of the groom, in black lace, the maid of honor and the bridesmaids. Fully two hundred guests offered congratulations. Pooler of Portland catered, and delicious refreshments were served. The apartment on the second floor, where Mr. and Mrs. Huston will keep house, was open to the guests, and the gifts were displayed there.

During the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Huston left for a short wedding trip to Jackman. The bride's traveling gown was a three piece suit of white homespun, plaided with jade green.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Cummings, one of Norway's well known families. She is a graduate of Norway High School, class of 1914, and of the Faelton Pianoforte School of Boston. She has been very successful with a large class of pianoforte pupils, and as pianist and accompanist, throughout the State, having appeared in concert work with Charles Harrison and Miss Helen Yorke. One of her successes was at the Maine Music Festival whens he accompanied Miss Yorke. She is a member of the First Universalist Church, and of Oxford Chapter, Order Eastern Star.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston of Portland. He was educated in the schools of Portland and at St. Luke's Academy at Wayne, Pa. During the World War he was in overseas service with the Canadian forces. He is a member of St Luke's Episcopal Church in Portland, and of William H. Stone Post, American Legion of Norway. He is employed as bond salesman for H. M. Payson & Co., Portland.

ARTHUR E. FORBES, Treas.

The note of $275.00 represents the total deficit plus interest accumulating over a series of years. Sunday services have been largely responsible for shrinkage. Excepting last year, the collections have not covered the expenses. This overdraft not only absorbed a small balance saved from the regular Chautauqua income but encumbered the Association with a note. Last season the Sunday service was self supporting. This year the dates will not include a Sunday gathering.

The nominating committee presented a list of officers who were unanimously elected.

Pres.—Eugene N. Swett.
Vice Pres.—Albert D. Park, Nelson G. Elder, Zeb. L. Merchant, Geo. F. Eastman.
Sec.—Philip F. Stone.
Treas.—Arthur E. Forbes.
Supt. of Grounds—Chas. W. Bowker.

Pres. Swett, chairman of the ticket committee reported that 683 season tickets have been subscribed and practically that number will be taken when the canvass was made. Five hundred tickets covers the guarantee, and the surplus should about cover Chatauqua expenses. This with anticipated revenue may absorb the note and leave a small balance. The thing can be done with everybody pulling together.

Philip F. Stone, who attended a meeting of representatives from state-wide Community Chautauqua held at Portland, brought out a number of suggestions dropped at that conference. Incorporating was considered good business for efficiency and legalizing the transactions. The matter was left with A. J. Stearns, Esq., who will report at a future meeting. Opinions varied about the method of securing ticket pledges but the system we have been using seemed the popular way. Locally, the "suction" process of securing pledges with pleadings in the midst of the evening program is objectionable to many. Some other way to guarantee tickets may be devised, possibly the "block" system may be considered. In this case one hundred each sign for five or more season tickets without confusion or a long drawn out argument and coaxing.

Assessing small annual dues on the guarantors was suggested at the Portland conference. This might give a local Association some additional income. This was not considered advisable at the local meeting.

Frolics at the Rex

Manager Wm. E. DeCroteau presented the fourth group of local performers in the Norway Frolics at Rex Theatre, Monday evening. Only one appearance was given before a good sized crowd, considering other attractions of a popular nature.

A good line of acrobatics was displayed by the Dubec Brothers. Strong arm stunts, hand balancing and hand springs were featured. They secured second prize.

Fred M. Davis of Norway, a familiar figure in the spot light entertained as a wandering minstrel. He cracked jokes, told a few stories, and closed with a song, accompanied by a banjo.

An original dancing and musical act should find a place on big time. Lyman Herrick danced to the music of F. M. Davis, piano; Steve Kimball, violin, and Mr. Buswell, bones. Herrick impersonated a Spanish dancer introducing steps copied from the hippodrome ballet and fair ground girlie entertainers. To the ascetic, this classic expressed the emotions of a mermaid during a hurricane at sea, while grosser mortals feasted largely on the costume of bandanna handkerchiefs. The fact that the Dancing Dervish and orchestra were speeeding on different gears was not detrimental to the success of this portrayal of Nero at the burning of Rome. For quantity and vehemence the act deserved three prizes but somehow escaped that honor.

Manager DeCroteau announced Country Store Night for next Monday evening when every patron should carry a market basket. Groceries are to be given away by lucky numbers.

Aggies Completed Tour of Inspection

Fourteen members of the Agricultural class at Norway High School with the instructor, Prof. Edward H. Brown, completed a three days' tour of inspection to Vermont and Canada. Eleven boys and a complete camp equipment were transported by Forrest Longley in a truck, the other boys were carried in Prof. Brown's car.

The party camped a mile from St. Johnsbury the first night, and after supper attended a band concert nad the movies. A thunder shower broke over camp before daylight, keeping the boys awake and on the jump, hunting for dry shelter. Everything in their outfit except enthusiasm was water soaked.

After breakfast they hit the trail toward the Derby line and passed alongside Willowby Lake. Credentials were procured at the custom house, allowing an entrance into Canada. That day was spent inspecting dairy farms and looking over many interesting agricultural items. Some time was passed at Sherbrooke, after which they headed for the States, leaving the credentials at the line house.

The second night found the party six miles from North Stratford alongside the Colebrook road. This was a comfortable spot with a cook house and other conveniences. Everybody was dead tired and hit the hay early. Sleep lost the previous night was made up in spite of chilly air from the mountains.

Camp was broken the next morning at 6:30 and the trail lead through Colebrook, N. H., Errol, N. H., and Wilson's Mills. All visited Aziscoos Dam where several photographs were snapped. An hour or so was passed inspecting the natural wonders at Screw Auger Falls and Moose Cave in Grafton. Home was reached via Bethel and thus ended the 400 mile trail, complete with thrills, pleasure and instruction.

Copious field notes were made at prominent farms visited, and of crop conditions along the route. These will be used in conjunction with class work the coming year.

Cyrus Hamlin Witt

Cyrus Hamlin Witt, aged 91 years, 4 months and 4 days, died Thursday, June 26, in his home at 42 Florence Street, Worcester, Mass. He was employed 25 years with the Crompton-Knowles Loom Works.

He was born in Norway, son of Benjamin and Celia (Churchill) Witt. He was a member of the Norway lodge of Odd Fellows. Ridgley lodge of Odd Fellows gave their ritual at the grave.

The funeral was held Saturday at 10.30 and was private. Burial was in Hope Cemetery. He leaves a widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Ramsdell of Worcester, and three grandchildren.

The Bassett Cottage in Ruins

Fire Thursday morning at 4.15 destroyed the cottage and most of the furnishings in the Bassett Cottage on Main Street. A small insurance, carried with Stuart W. Goodwin Agency, will not cover the loss on buildings and contents.

The cottage was a story and a half with seven rooms located between Albert P. Bassett's residence and the Upper Primary schoolhouse. This was built by Mr. Bassett about thirty-five years ago and used for roomers, until about three years ago, John LaForte leased the premises.

The occupants were out of town for the holiday at the time of the fire, and the cause of the blaze is not yet determined. Fire was discovered in the shed and rear of the cottage. When the department reached the spot, flames had spread throughout the entire structure and confined there by a metal roof. The schoolhouse, within ten feet of the cottage, was unharmed, but the rear of Fred H. Cummings' green house was charred, but not badly damaged. There was no wind and the firemen directed their attention to the immediate blaze. What is left of the cottage and contents is thoroughly water soaked.

Gordon Noyes, who has been spending a few days in town, went to Orono, Saturday, to attend the seven week summer school.

SOUTH PARIS

Quiet Club Made the Woods Ring

A week end trip of the Quiet Club to D. E. Bean's camp in Newry was a success, and called together thirty-three members in one of the quiet times for which the club is famous.

The party left South Paris early Saturday afternoon and arrived at the camp in season to prepare supper before twilight and assign sleeping quarters. Camp Mountain View was the center of industry and from camps on Wight brook, owned by Mrs. Fred Wight, were engaged to care for the overflow.

Saturday evening, both men and women pitched horseshoes until dark, then all gathered around a roaring camp fire, with pop corn, songs and stories. An inquisitive porcupne mixed up in the sports, but was frightened away by the "stillness" and quaker-like attitude of the members. Many surmise the animal is running still with the "stillness" ringing in his ears. Trees and camps were decorated with signs so no bureau of information was necessary.

As usual Albert D. Park led in the quiet and solemn rites characteristic of the Main street band. Natives living several miles up river are said to have prepared for the end of the world, feeling confident Gabriel was on the way that Saturday night.

The weather on Sunday was gloomy and not the best kind for vacationists, but the party made the best of these conditions and kept smiling. Even the children appeared contented although unable to roam the woods for wild flowers.

All gathered Sunday morning in Mountain View Camp for an old fashioned song service. Favorite hymns were rendered with enthusiasm and spirit. It mattered little if the voices were not cultivated, the uplifting influence was there.

Meals during the trip were served cafateria style and the families pooled their interests on one common table. A little planning before the event was responsible for a delicious menu, attractive to all tastes and of sufficient quantity.

All are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Bean for their hospitality, and to Mrs. Fred Wight of Newry, who provided comfortable quarters in her camps and in many ways took a personal interest.

The party included, A. F. Goldsmith and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hunter of Strong, Sanford M. Brown and family, Donald P. Chapman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Holden, L. W. Titus and family, Donald H. Bean and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Park, Mrs. Marcia Millett, Miss Gladys Ross and Miss Carolyn Gray.

From Boston Evening Transcript, June 25: Miss Katherine Mary Barlow, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Myron Barlow of Hollis avenue, Braintree, was married last evening at the family home to Sumner Mills Davis of Chelsea, a Bates College man, 1917, and son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Davis. Rev. Harry Glines of the First Congregational Church in Braintree was the officiating minister.

Miss Caroline E. Flint of Braintree was the bride's maid of honor and the flower girl was Julia G. Davis, whose younger brother, Leslie Davis, was ring bearer. They are the children of the bridegroom's brother, Lloyd L. Davis of Hopedale, who was best man. The ushers were Walter S. Barlow and Philip E. Flint of Braintree, and George B. Flint of Lincoln. The wedding musical selections were played by Edward W. Flint of Lincoln. A reception was held after the ceremony.

For a wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will go for a fortnight to the White Mountains and afterward will go to Camp Pines at Lovell, Me., for the remainder of the summer. In the fall they will live in Chelsea, where the bridegroom will resume his duties as junior master of the Chelsea Senior High School.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Norway people recommend Doan's Pills. Ask your neighbor. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Albert F. Prescott, shoemaker, Crocketts Bridge, Norway, says: "My kidneys gave out and I had backache so badly it put me past going for several days. I couldn't bend, I was so stiff and lame. I was working in the ship yards at the time and I blame so much heavy lifting for the trouble. I had to get up several times during the night to pass the kidney secretions and I felt drowsy all the time. Finally I went to Stone's Drug Store and got Doan's Pills and began using them. Doan's reached my case at once and after using three boxes, the trouble left entirely. I have felt fine since."

HAVE FAITH IN AMERICA

On Independence Day we can well renew our confidence in America, grown so large and powerful since the days of 1776. Our forefathers, in the Declaration of Independence, set an example of courage and staunch faith which has always been an inspiration. This momentous event is a fitting cause for celebration.

W. O. FROTHINGHAM SOUTH PARIS

MOOSEHEAD LAKE FISHING TRIP

The caravan: Walter Smith, Elgin Greenleaf, Mrs. C. E. Twitchell and the writer left Norway Tuesday, May 27. Arrived at the Blethen House, Dover-Foxcroft, at 4.10 p. m.

Dinner was had at Waterville where hundred Rotarians of that city were having a banquet or something of that sort. The Elmwood was crowded and we had long waits between courses in a private room.

Mr. Smiley and wife were stopping on the old home farm in Benton for a few week's vacation and came to the city to mingle with the Portland people.

I was told that Fred S. Brown of the Smiley firm has bought the Merritt Welch house at Norway and was to move there in the near future.

I renewed my acquaintance with Dr. F. C. Thayer of Waterville, who many years ago was a guest of Capt. W. W. Whitmarsh of Norway at a Bass Island dinner gotten up by the late S. H. Walcott. Years set lightly on the doctor as he looks only slightly older than thirty years ago.

The changes at the Blethen House are numerous. Walter Blethen has bought his brother Harry's interest and remodelled the house including baths, hot and cold water and a larger dining room.

Liston P. Evans of the Observor was seen. Also his wife, son and son's wife. The new Whitlock press recently put in his office was discussed and looked over.

John F. Sprague was found quietly smoking and seriously talking with Frank E. Gurney, primary candidate for U. S. Senator. He planned a fighting chance for the Ex-Congressman. The ballots when counted showed the difference between being "in" and "out." Fernald won not perhaps that he is a better Senator than Mr. Gurney would make but he is "in" office and acceptable to the people.

Greenville is the port of entry to the big Moosehead wilderness. It was the only way to get to the lake before the building of the Somerset Railroad to Rockwood. Now there are two ports of entry, Rockwood Station or Kineo and Greenville. We had a wait of an hour and a half at the wharf. Walter drove too fast or else a too early start was made from Dover in the morning. Several anxious fishermen were hauling lines over the wharf. I talked with a railroad man who had two or more hours to wait between trains. He said he got a "square tail" or salmon almost every day. Worms were used for bait. Improvements are in evidence at the wharf. The ticket office is enlarged as is the platform. You can now buy tickets outside the office.

Camp Greenleaf, Sugar Island, was reached a little after the dinner hour. By the way, they don't serve dinner until the boat comes in unless the boat is very late. Capt. Louie Mountain and the "Louisa" are fixtures and have plied the waters on the Lilly Bay route these twenty years. Since the building of the auto road to the last named place boat traffic has been seriously dropped. The Great Northern Paper Co. own a controlling interest in the Coburn Steamboat Co. and use whichever route is the cheapest and most convenient in handling of freight and passengers for their operations in the interior.

After dinner Walter Smith took me to Thoroughfare Point and in less than six minutes I was fighting a 3 1-2 pound trout. It came savagely to a long tailed fly. Something that looks like a smelt or shiner. This particular fish almost leaped out of the water in its haste to capture the wire. At the third try he was hooked. Thus opened the fishing.

The "stump" in the Thoroughfare was visited but it failed to respond. One small trout maybe weighing a pound was caught here by me in the half dozen times I visited. The two following days wind was heavy and only a little time was spent on the water. Resulting in getting a pound and a half trout.

I did inveigle one at the wharf to take a baited hook. The fish weighed 4 1-4 pounds. It was carefully unhooked, weighed and returned to the water for someone else to catch.

Saturday Charles F. Howes of Cambridge and Boston arrived also Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White of Haverhill, Mass. They occupied their usual camps. Mr. White owns and operates a "Kicker" but does not venture out of sight of land and when weather is heavy he stays ashore. He is a wise man!

Caribou Point was visited six times. It failed to respond only once. Chas. F. Howes and I took 13 fish there in some four hours. All come to the long-tail. The number taken made two boxes which were sent out. The weight was a little over four pounds. You can legally ship 10 pounds of fish in a box by paying one dollar license and the express charges must be prepaid. The transportation company take no chances of fish spoiling on their hands. This catch was made Thursday, June 5.

Friday, the 14th of June, at Caribou Point I took 3 fish that weighed 12 1-4 pounds. The salmon weighed 5 1-2, trout 3 3-4 and 3 pounds and Mr. Howes one slightly less than four pounds. This day we had four offers and brought each to the net. This seldom happens in my fishing experience. The rain drove us home at a little after dinner and we fished only a little more than three hours.

Some years ago John G. Owens of Rockland, Mass., with Ed. Laney, guide, paddled up to Caribou Point from Greenville, 9 miles, and returned to the old Moosehead Inn at night bringing with them seven trout that weighed at the hotel 25 pounds. All were taken with surface flies. This was before there was a limit on a day's catch. Now 15 pounds is the limit.

The fish did not come into the "Dooryard" as in years past. Few fish were seen "breaking." Shiners were scarce and hard to find for bait up to the middle of June. They made their appearance on the "Dooryard" bar Monday, June 16th. We left on the 18th feeling that the fising season had just commenced. Everything was out of the usual for the three weeks that I was at Camp Greenleaf but I had a good time and enjoyed my stay.

The record shows I took 47 fish, all but two on a fly. For the last four or five days surface fly, instead of "long-tails" seemed to be wanted by the fish.

Of course several "big" fish were lost and tackle broken. How big they were I don't know. Monsters probably!

The total number of fish—meaning square tails, salmon and togue, brought into camp for the 21 days I was at Sugar Island was 282. Last year covering identically the same number of days and the same days in the year there were 320 hence 38 less.

Banish the Hand Pump—Use a DURO Water System

In primitive countries woman is regarded somewhat as a beast of burden. She is subjected to all sorts of drudgery, does practically all the work, and her lot is hard and discouraging. This custom is rightfully regarded as inhuman and uncivilized.

Yet thousands of women in this country today are shackled to the old-fashioned hand pump. In many cases they carry the water considerable distances after pumping it. The amount of time and energy lost is incalculable.

DURO Water Systems

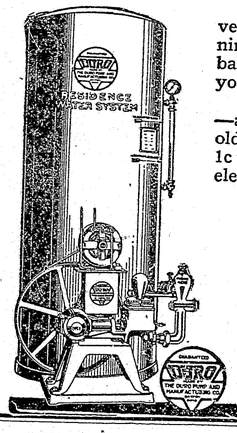
have liberated thousands of women, and men, from the grinding toil of pumping and carrying water. They have brought comfort, cleanliness and health where drudgery, dirt and disease prevailed before.



Duro systems give you all the conveniences of city water service. Running water under pressure in kitchen, bathroom, toilet, garden and barn is at your service.

Compact, powerful, and automatic—a Duro system is easily installed in old or new homes and costs less than 1c a day to operate. Driven by either electric motor or gasoline engine.

Duro Systems are made in many sizes and styles. Ask us for an estimate of cost

No period in all history is so romantic, so thrilling as the days of '49. Paramount has brought those days to life again in "The Covered Wagon." To make "The Covered Wagon," 3,000 actors spent 3 months in the Utah Desert, eighty miles from a railroad. They endured floods, blizzards, zero temperatures and sometimes lack of food. Besides the regular actors, a thousand Indians were also on location, and the live stock included 600 oxen, a thousand horses, 500 bison and 400 mules. HISTORY OF THE NORWAY CENTER CHURCH

By Mrs. Issie A. Cox (By Special Request)

It seems almost a waste of time to have me try to give you a history of our church, for it is hard for me to put my ideas into words so as to be interesting. However, I will do the best I can. Now I want to give my history in a story form so as to interest the young people and the children. I want to tell you first about Job Eastman. Job Eastman was a man who was prominent in affairs not only of that town but of the church. He was a very honest and trustworthy man so much so that not only were the records of the town but also were the records of the church entrusted to him for safe keeping. Now I want to tell you just where he lived. As you go up the Morrill hill (from the church) at this time of the year you will find nearly at the top of the hill a clump of lilacs just coming into blossom, just a little later you will find the old fashioned red rose in blossom. These grew in the front yard of Job Eastman's. It was the custom in those days to build the house one side of the road, and the barn on the opposite side of the road. This proved very fortunate for Mr. Eastman for when they were very old, she 89, he 93, one cold stormy night in winter they were awakened from a sound sleep, their buildings being on fire. They just escaped in their night clothes.

They managed to drag a big woolen quilt from the bed and get him across the road to the south side of the barn. They then wrapped the quilt around them as best they could. Neighbors soon saw the fire and hastened to their rescue. They were badly chilled and her feet badly frozen so she never entirely recovered the use of them. I tell you this so you may know just where and how so many of our town and all our church records previous to 1809 were burned.

Now I want to tell you about our first church building. In 1809, Major Jonathan Cummings took the responsibility of building a Congregational church. This church was an immense affair. It was 60 feet long, 48 feet wide, with 30 foot posts, a huge gallery was on three sides of the house, on the east and west sides of the gallery were rows of pews, on the south end were the singers' seats, while the pulpit occupied the north end. This pulpit was on a level with the gallery reached by narrow flights of stairs on either side. It was also boxed in by a partition about waist high with small doors at the top of either flight of stairs. A broad isle ran through the body of the house with double rows of pews on each side with a narrow aisle next the wall. The pews were big boxlike affairs with a small door at the entrance of each. Two services were held each Sabbath, summer and winter. Now this big church had no heating apparatus, for furnaces and stoves were almost unknown in those days. So the ladies to keep warm, carried either foot stones or foot stoves. Foot stones were mostly flat stones from the fields neatly hammered into shape. Foot stoves were sheet iron boxes about a foot and a half square and a foot high. The last thing before the family left for church the good man of the house would put in the bottom of the foot stove about three inches of hot ashes, then a big shovel of live coals, then fill and pack down with more hot ashes. It is said if the coals were from just the right kind of wood and packed down just right it would keep warm through both services. But I should think they must have been cold for all this. And the children, how did they ever keep from freezing. For all went to church in those days.

As time went on the Methodists withdrew, also the Baptists, and formed societies of their own, which left the congregation much smaller so the people got tired of so big a church building and in 1838 and 9 they decided to tear it down and build a smaller and more suitable church, and so this building was built and dedicated in 1840. About 28 years ago we had our chapel annex, the gift of one of the best and sweetest women I ever knew, Aunt Sarah Holt.

I have told you of the church buildings now, I want to tell you of the preaching services. So I will go back to 1787 when two families, (Hobbs and Stevens), came into this vicinity and established homes down near the lake. The next year five more families came. These people were nearly all Congregationalists and I think this is the reason why this society today is a Congregational society, instead of Methodist or Baptist. As the number of settlers increased, traveling preachers came and held church services. You naturally ask where services were held? As there was no church at that time. In winter they were held in one of the settler's big kitchens. (For they always had big kitchens in those days). A favorite place was Amos Upton's. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Upton would scrub and sand the kitchen floor, then Mr. Upton would bring in planks and arrange them on blocks of wood for seats for the Sunday service. In summer they frequently held services in the barns and Job Eastman's barn was a central meeting place. When a service was to be held, the evening previous, the boys and young men would go to the barn, brush down all the cobwebs and sweep up all the dirt and chaff and arrange planks on blocks of wood around the sides of the barn. These seats were for the women and children and older men. The young men and boys would seat themselves on the edges of the scaffolds. And my grandfather has told me they had grand good services and grand good singing for every one sang in those days. When no minister could be procured they often had someone read a sermon and offer prayer, also singing which concluded the service.

Thus time passed on and in 1802 a Mr. Stoddard from Paris preached four months. People generally liked him very much. Oct. 6, 1804, the Congregational society was organized. The articles of faith were adopted, and ten men, and eight women, signed the covenant. The society wished to give Mr. Stoddard a call to become their pastor but Major Jonathan Cummings did not like him and made some very insinuating remarks about him, to which Mr. Stoddard made some sarcastic answers. This caused trouble and so he had to leave the good work he had begun.

In 1807 Noah Cresey preached a while and the Congregational people wished to settle him as their pastor but the Methodist and Baptist people were averse to having him, and it was at this time Major Cummings undertook on his own responsibility to build the first Congregational church. The next year Mr. Cressey preached for them six months. And the people gave him a call to become their pastor. They had not been incorporated, neither had they a church, so he declined. Early in 1809 sixty-eight men signed a petition which was sent to the Massachusetts legislature asking that they might be incorporated as a society.

This bill passed the House of Representatives, Feb. 25, 1809, and was signed by the speaker of the House, Timothy Big low. It passed the Senate three days later, and was signed by the President of the Senate, H. G. Otis. Was also signed by Secretary of State Ball then it came back to the people and the society was speedily incorporated.

The tenth of the following April a meeting was called to renew the invitation to Mr. Cressey to become their pastor and he accepted and was soon ordained. He was to receive $266.67 the first year as a salary, $16.67 was to be added yearly till the sum should amount to $333.34. He was to receive the first year $300.00 additional toward building him a house (this sum to be given in labor and material). He built his house the following August, the house up on the hill just south of the little cemetery. (I would like to say right here my father purchased the same property in 1860 and it remained in our family a full half century). Mr. Cressey was a great addition to the town as well as the society. For he not only preached to the people but in winter he taught school five and a half days each week. He believed in a higher education even in those days and so each spring he tutored (as he expressed it) a class of boys in Greek, Latin, bookkeeping and higher mathametics. Some of the boys paid their tuition in work on the farm or in his gardens and woe to the boy who left a single weed or foot print in his vegetable beds. I can see him now as he looked to me when he used to visit at my father's. Tall and square shouldered, very austere in his manner and a great disciplinarian, believing children should be seen and not heard, neither did he mingle with the young people in their sports and pastimes like our most genial pastor of today. In his late life he used to like often times to make a pilgrimage to his early flock (as he would term it) to see how they were getting along. Always occupying the pulpit on Sunday. He came last at about the close of the Civil War when he was in his 89th year, and I think he died in Portland the following winter. He must have been much liked by those people of so long ago for he remained with them ten years. Other preachers have come and gone of which I could tell you much but time says no. Of two I must speak, Rev. Alex Wiswell, who was with us four years, and our much loved pastor, Rev. B. S. Rideout, who occupied the pulpit twenty-two years. Both are gone but their good works surely have followed close after the pattern of those old pioneer days.

Now, I want to go back once more and tell you about the singing in those early days. Just before the ordination of Mr. Cressey on Sept. 20, 1809, they called a special meeting to choose choristers for divine worship, and they chose Benjamin Eastman, Joseph Martin, Thos. Wood, Amos Cummings and Job Eastman. It seemed they needed 5 in those days, while we of today get along nicely with one, but the choirs were much larger in those days than they are now. My grandmother used to sing in the early times. And she has told me their choir would average about thirty. On special occasions there would be more. They started their tunes with either a tuning fork, or pitch pipe. They had no wind instruments in those days, but did have a good share of the time a bass viol and oftentimes a violin. On special occasions they would have two violins, each playing a separate part, and a flute (I guess I have made a mistake for I think a flute is a wind instrument after all.

My grandmother also told me it was a great honor to be asked to sit in the singers' seats. No one, only those of a strictly moral character were asked to sing and if one committed a misdemeanor he was either dismissed or asked to withdraw from the choir.

Like all else, after people withdrew and formed societies of their own, the choir was much smaller. The Sabbath School was organized, May 11, 1823, May 12, 1832 it became an auxiliary of the Sunday School Union. And whenever there has been a preaching service there has also been a Sunday School.

Nov. 29, 1827 a tract society was formed. This was to distribute religious reading to those who wished it and to people who did not have regular church worship. It is with a feeling of reverance that I look back more than a century ago on that early pioneer work and I sincerely hope when this century will have closed that these church doors may still be open, a part of the year at least, and the good work begun so long ago may be lasting and thriving as the roses and lilacs on yonder hillside.

Lincoln Holmes has sold his farm to Mr. Harding of Bethel and has moved his goods into Mrs. E. J. Paige's house in Bisbeetown. Real estate is booming in Bisbeetown, many vacant houses filling up and places changing hands.

Lee Lord is visiting his cousin Don Brown.

Miss Dorothy Doble, Center Conway, N. H., has been through the vicinity collecting antiques. She bought a table of Mrs. Ezra Lebroke, a bureau of E. K. Shedd, and various dishes of Mrs. Shedd. Among them was a beautiful "State Platter," a rare article.

James Kimball has a beautiful purple, fluid burning lamp; if the right parties could see this wonderful lamp, it would mean a goodly sum to the owner if he would part with it. One might hunt many a day before they ran across one like it, a beautiful antique specimen.

The late rain has been worth a fortune to the farmers, as the crops were all drying up.

Verna Kimball is home on a two weeks vacation.

IT CAN BE DONE

Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied,
That "maybe it couldn't," but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he tried.
So he buckled right in with a trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousand to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.
But just buckle right in with a bit of a grin,
Then take off your coat and go to it,
Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing
That cannot be done and you'll do it!

Sanitation of Public Eating Places

The State Department of Health has started a state wide campaign to make very real the rules and regulations in regard to sanitation of public eating and drinking places. Amendments to the Public Laws of 1917 are in effect after July 1, of the present year and will be enforced by state officials assisted by local health officers and health boards.

The law in substance requires every person employed in public eating and drinking places to have a health certificate signed by a reputable registered physician and filed with the local health officer. This inspection must be made at least twice a year.

No person suffering from any communicable disease, externally visible or not, shall be employed.

No carrier of diseases, such as typhoid fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, scarlet fever, etc., can be employed. Written notice must be served on the proprietor by the local health officer when cases are discovered.

The regulations are strict concerning garbage cans, screens for doors and windows, the protection of food from flies and dust, the proper washing and scalding of dihses and general sanitation about the buildings.

An analysis of a private water supply must be made by the State Board of Health at least twice a year. There is no expense beyond express charges. Such supplies are at all times subject to inspection.

Public eating and drinking places are defined as any place where food or drink is prepared, served to, or provided for the public as a business. This includes hotels, restaurants, cafes, cafeterias, lunch carts, street vendors or stalls; ice cream saloons, soda or soft drink fountains, industries, factories, stores, vacation camps, parks, camp meeting grounds etc.

Violations are punishable by a fine not less than ten or more than one hundred dollars. Municipal police courts and trial justices have jurisdiction.

Given Farewell

The employees of the Thomas Smiley Company in Portland were entertained, Wednesday evening, at a dinner given at the Cogress Square Hotel by Mr. Smiley, in honor of Fred S. Brown, who is severing his connection with the Portland firm and is returning to Norway.

Mr. Brown has been connected with Mr. Smiley in a business way for over twenty years, having entered his employ upon his graduation from the Norway High School and continued with that firm ever since. A few years ago, Mr. Brown became a partner in the firm which became known as Brown, Buck, and Company.

During the war, a number of the men connected with the Thomas Smiley Company in Portland went to war, leaving several vacancies to be filled. Mr. Brown immediately offered to come here to assist Mr. Smiley, and has remained here until this time.

Mr. Brown was presented with a beautiful Knights Templar Charm as a token of the regard which is felt toward him by the employees in the store. Mr. Smiley gave a brief talk in which he expressed his appreciation of the help which Mr. Brown has given him and his regrets at having him leave Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Cherry and daughter, Elizabeth, of Chelsea, Mass., Mrs. Eleanor Jones of Falmouth, and Mrs. Henry J. Bangs and daughter, Marion, of Gray, were in town, Saturday, to attend the Huston-Cummings wedding.

The Women of Mooseheart Legion held a regular meeting, June 24, with a good attendance. The ten cent supper, which preceded the meeting for the Moose and their families was in charge of Mrs. Addie Olmstead, Ida Everett, and Leona Spencer. A good sum was realized, about seventy-five being present.

Fish and game wardens are upsetting the plans of fishermen about the lake. Those with a license and keeping away from the closed tributaries have no worries. Others without the necessary document, and unable to read warnings posted on the brooks, are not feeling so secure. One case was settled in court recently and the law is to be enforced. Probably many have been getting away without conforming to the law, but the end is in sight so far as this part of Oxford County is concerned.

Walter Young of Portland is spending a few weeks' vacation with his mother, Mrs. Freeland Young.

Dr. Ley and party of Elizabeth, N. J., have arrived at their camp for the season. Dr. Ley bought the Elon Brown cottage about a year ago and has made some changes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith and guest of Manchester, N. H., arrived, Tuesday, for a sojourn of some weeks at a Lake Pennesseewassee camp.

Eloise Hunt, who is teaching in Livermore Falls, is assisting at Stone's Drug Store during the vacation. She has been engaged for another year at Livermore Falls.

There is a good pitch of water on the lake. The variation has not been over one inch since early in June.

Harry L. Atlenbury and family of Portland are occupying Fred Brown's camp this week.

Eloi L. Brown and Prof. Edward H. Brown attended the Oxford County Alumni Association meeting at Bryant Pond, Saturday evening, at the Wiske camps. E. L. Brown was elected secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. George W. Chase of Lynn, Mass., is in Norway and South Paris for the holiday, visiting relatives. She is stopping with Mrs. Frank Plummer of South Paris.

Tim Heath's crew is laying a cement sidewalk for the corporation on the north side of Paris street, connecting Main and Winter streets.

John Dinning and sister, Florence, of Maple Grove, Megantic, P. Q., and Miss Angie Brackett, of Boston, are guests at B. G. McIntire's, this week.

Glenn McIntire has returned from Athens, Georgia, where he was representative of the Chi Psi fraternity in a meeting held at the University of Georgia. On the way home, he stopped five days at the Democratic National Convention in New York City.

A party from Texas while guests at Bethel Inn passed several hours fly fishing on Lake Pennesseewassee, Friday. Capt. Mel. Sampson guided the party over the fishing grounds. Magazine articles called attention to this beautiful sheet of water and bass fishing. Members of the party were delighted with the natural beauty of the lake and surroundings.

Roger Hutchins Has Responsible Office

Many will remember Roger Hutchins or "Hutch" when he resided in Norway with employment in the stock room at the B. F. Spinney & Co. This was about twenty years ago. Roger was not slow after baseball, billiards and politics. He was a good mixer, and made a host of friends.

Today he is scratching his mark high in the shoe industry and in sports, while a busy life has driven politics from his program for the time. He may yet rest comfortably in the mayor's chair.

Residing in Brooklyn, N. Y., he is head over heels in the shoe manufacturer's supply business on Franklin Avenue. About everything that goes into footwear, real and camouflaged, is handled by this enterprising Spinney graduate.

The hiking editor of the Advertiser has given a pair of Roger Hutchins' special heels and soles a fair trial over the Norway branch ties. Broken glass, cinders, cobble stones, ice, slush and axle grease were terrible punishments, but the goods laughed at the strain and outlived the leather uppers. This puff is not considered free advertising, but goes to show that Roger at least knows the average conditions up in Norway, and gladly risked his reputation on the staying qualities of his product.

We quote from the Beverly, Mass. Times, the following interesting facts:

"Roger Hutchins, former Beverlyite, and now in the shoe manufacturers supply business in Brooklyn, N. Y., has been elected president of the Shoe and Leather Square club, made up of Masons engaged in the shoe and leather trade in New York city, one of the largest Masonic clubs in the country.

"Mr. Hutchins while in Beverly was connected with the United Shoe machinery corporation, was active in many local affairs and was popular with his associates. He has been connected with the shoe industry for the past ten years in New York and now carries on a successful business of his own. The former Beverly man has been active in affairs in Brooklyn, is a director on the Superintendents' and Foremen's Association, and has been prominent in Masonic circles, as a member of the Blue Lodge, Chapter, the Council, Commandery and the Shrine and a member of the Brooklyn lodge of Elks and this year served as a member of the bowling committee and was on one of the winning teams in the Elks league. The success of Mr. Hutchins in his new home is pleasing to a legion of Beverly friends who retain pleasant memories of the happy personality of "Hutch" as hundreds of Beverlyites knew and addressed him."

All Ready for the Circus

Early Tuesday morning, July 8th, the Walter L. Main Circus train will pull into the freight yard at South Paris from Berlin, N. H. Unloading will commence shortly after daylight and the city of tents will be up at the county fair grounds and all animals, horses, wagons and equipment in their respective places early in the day. Three hundred and fifty people are fed in the Walter L. Main's Circus cook tent each meal. There are many interesting sights for the curiosity seeker on the circus grounds and the public is invited to feast their eyes while the show is being placed on the lot ready for exhibition.

Mile-long street parade about 11 o'clock will prove a riot of color and brilliancy. Bands of music, gilded cages, gaily costumed riders, clowns, elephants and hundreds of interesting things will be shown in this spectacle.

The annex with all its curiosities and wonders will open the amusement program shortly before 1 o'clock, leaving plenty of time before the menagerie is ready for inspection.

At 2 and 8 o'clock the regular circus events start with dash and pep characteristic of big shows. Clean-cut, worthwhile acts in three rings and mid-air will feature an array of head liners as the Three Orantos, equilibrists; the famous Maximo, high-wire artist; the Colleano Family of Australia; Downie's Hippodrome Elephants in charge of Miss Dot Snyder and many others.

W. C. T. U. Picnic

W. C. T. U. Field Day was observed June 27th at Norway Lake School Grove. A few early comers were met by the efficient committee, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Rich and Mrs. Saleeby, who were already on the grounds ready to look after the comfort of all. The day, scenery, and place were all that could be desired. About fifty old and young enjoyed a delightful picnic dinner with ice cream for desert. The water was a great attraction for the young members of the group and also some of larger growth. At the close of the noon hour after singing America, the young folks scattered to amuse themselves, the older members of the party to hold a short business session. Singing, prayer by the President followed by the Lord's Prayer, Twenty-third Psalm in unison, Secretary and Treasurer's report read and accepted, readings, Mrs. Rachel Brown, Mrs. Amy Tracy, singing Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Esther Anderson, a spirited discussion as to gaining new members, Mrs. Alice Danforth and Mrs. Jennie Russell adding to their laurels during the day, our membership now reaching seventy-five and still climbing. If you want to know how and why we have such good times and are so successful in our work come and see. In July, the second Wednesday afternoon, there will be a porch meeting with Mrs. Harriet Brown hostess, Mrs. Rachel Brown, leader; Roll Call, my favorite quotation and selected reading by Miss Ella Clark.

L. O. O. M. Notes

About eighty members of Norway Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, were present at the meeting, Friday night, when District Superintendent Willey and Mr. Gilbert of Gardiner were guests of honor. The visitors spoke at some length on matters pertaining to the order, and a social hour followed. A buffet lunch was served, and all had a good time.

On July 18, a large class of candidates will be initiated. This group will be known as the Willey Class in appreciation of the splendid work performed by the superintendent. Mr. Willey will be present, and a big event is being arranged.

Sometime in August, Mr. Willey will bring to Norway Lodge, the first personal report of the National Convention. He has been appointed a representative to that body by James J. Davis, now secretary of labor, at Washington, and founder of Mooseheart. Norway Lodge will receive the state honor of being the first to have the first public report from this official.

The Norway boys are climbing toward the highest peak in Maine and are striving to lead in efficiency and lodge work among the Moose in this state.

Clarence S. York, representing the Hart Packing Co. of Boston, was in town, Thursday; on business. Mr. York resided at Bethel thirty odd years ago. He was village photographer and printed a small paper for a time. This was several years before the Bethel News, now Oxford County Citizen, came into being. ALIVE TO DEMANDS

The man who is trying to build up a business should study the mental processes of the public, and do the things that seem necessary to attract public attention. If he just offers his goods for sale, without much regard to popular psychology or efforts to attract attention, he is not likely to get very far.

There is a kind of mental affinity between the quality called "push" and the popular mind, so that a person who exercises push wins popular favor. People like to do business with him. This explains why so many business successes have been built up out of newspaper advertising.

If a producer or distributor makes it his regular practice to advertise in a newspaper, he gains two positive advantages. In the first place, he will sell a lot of the special line that he advertises. If he is getting out things that people want, they will eagerly read his ads to see what these things cost and what merchandise he is offering.

But this seller does more than merely win the interest of those who at any one time want the particular impression that he is one of that useful element of people who are commonly called "pushers."

Push is a fine quality. It arises from a type of mind that is not daunted by the obstacles that confront one's path. The pushers look over a business field, and realize that competition is sharp, that they must go up against capable rivals and often against popular habits. But they show their pushing quality by energy and initiative, and if they go at it right, they can make their way and win a prominent place in the business field. Newspaper advertising and good service are tools with which they can do it.

ENAMELING FURNITURE AND OTHER WOODWORK

Enameling is an art that has been much used and abused by the amateur, yet it is not at all difficult to turn out a fair job if one will but learn and observe a few simple rules that are necessary to make the work a success.

In re-enameling old furniture, first wipe it over with a cloth dampened with gasoline, to remove all surface or greasy spots. If the old enamel has been chipped off in places, these should be filled with knifing putty. Do not use ordinary glazier's putty, as it is very slow to dry and does not stick well. If you cannot procure knifing putty at your paint store, take one part white lead and two parts whiting. Use enough turpentine to mix them to a dough; this should be kept in a can of water, as it hardens when left exposed to the air. Use this to glaze over all chinks and rough spots. Smooth it with a putty knife, and when dry, sand it down with double "O" sandpaper.

If the old enamel still retains its high gloss, it should be rubbed over with fine sandpaper. If the furniture is to be refinished in the same color as the original one, one coat of undercoating will be sufficient, provided you have colored your putty the same color or have wiped the puttied surface over with some of the color.

Good results in enameling depend upon laying on the undercoat smoothly and uniformly, for the enamel itself is transparent. Get your undercoat and enamel at the same store, and be sure that they are the same shade. Prepared undercoating is mixed to the proper consistency. Do not thin it. Apply a heavy coat with a soft-haired brush, smoothing your work out with a soft light stroke of the brush. Look your work over and pick up all runs before the paint begins to set.

When this coat is thoroughly dry, sand it down with fine sandpaper. Sharp edges should be rubbed very lightly or you may expose the wood. Dust off and apply enamel just as you would apply a coat of varnish. Be sure it is all thoroughly covered and laid on uniformly; all runs and sags should be picked up and smoothed out before the enamel begins to set.

To enamel new woodwork, sand it over until all the surface is smooth to the touch. Run the sandpaper over all sharp corners; dust off; and apply a priming coat of lead reduced with equal parts of oil and turpentine; when dry putty all nail holes and sand them. Apply two coats of undercoating, rubbing each down with a fine sandpaper, then apply the enamel according to the directions already given.

If enamel is setting too fast, add a tablespoon of kerosene to each quart.

COULDN'T BE DONE, BUT WAS

Of course it couldn't be done; not at any rate with real boys! Didn't everybody knows that "Boys will be boys." How, then, was it possible to enlist the interest of hundreds, thousands, yes millions of boys, in an organization standing for manly ideals and virtues—an organization with a pledge like this: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country—to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight!"

Utterly impossible and absurd to think of such a thing!

So most people would have said a quarter of a century ago. But because a few thought differently, believed thoroughly in the latent nobility of boy nature, and had faith to put their ideas to the test, the miracle has been performed—behold the proof of it in the great and growing and splendidly active organization known as Boy Scouts!

Here is a work for boys with a program based upon genuine understanding of boy nature. It gives the boy things to do that are not only interesting but worth while. Instead of quoting the old adage with a wagging of the head which means boys will be bad boys, the leaders of scouting keep before themselves the truth that "Boys will be manly, if you show them how."

In our own city the work of the Boy Scouts is carried on by the Boston Council, a group of 200 prominent citizens who devote much time and thought to their self-imposed task. Their budget of expense is small, compared with the service they are rendering to the community of today and tomorow in the making of good citizens.

The Boston Council, which has brought the miracle of scouting to our city and is keeping it here, merits the full confidence and financial backing of the public.—Boston Herald.

SAFEGUARDING MOTOR CAMPING IN MAINE

With the coming of summer, the thoughts of people all over the Country turn naturally to vacation-time, to out-of-doors, to auto tours especially. From auto toruing to camping out is a natural transition, and the establishment of motor camping places to meet the need of the auto tourist in this respect, is constantly growing in favor.

Maine, as well as other states, wants these camps, for there is a rapidly growing demand for them from the motorist. And the State of Maine Publicity Bureau, having in mind the safeguarding of our tourists' interests, is especially interested in the establishment of camping sites which shall be properly conducted and is most anxious that we shall have in our State such camps whose hospitality will attract the desirable tourists from other parts of the Country without drawing to us an undesirable class of people. From its experience in handling this work, the Bureau is able to offer suggestions that should be of value to every community considering the establishment of a free or municipal camping site; for, as is often the case with a new project, its disagreeable or unsatisfactory features are not at first apparent, and sometimes are not discovered until too late to remedy them.

In the first place, it is the opinion of the Bureau that free camping sites should not be generally encouraged, for, as a rule, people who are willing to pay a modest fee (such as one dollar per car per night, which is charged by several camping places in Maine that are conducted in the proper way, with protection for everyone) are not the sort of people we want to come to Maine. It has been the experience of several States catering to tourist travel where these municipal camps have been especially popular, that people who are looking for something for nothing usually fail to show their appreciation of the privilege of the free camping sites. They are the sort who disregard the laws of the community, pay no attention to sanitation, and thus prove a menace to the health of the populace. California finds itself at the present time confronted with a serious problem in the case of people without money, who have taken up a sort of "squatter's" existence on the free camping sites, and are becoming a burden to the State. So acute has the situation become that the state is now furnishing each family with a day's supply of food, giving them ten dollars in cash, filling their cars with gas, and giving them notice to be beyond the state line within a certain time.

Charging a nominal fee for the use of these camps would prevent their abuse by people of the above description, and attract to them campers of the right sort—the sort of people we like to welcome to Maine—those, perhaps, who have become interested in camping out because their sons are boy scouts, or who enjoy the freedom of camp life interspersed with regular hotel routine. As a matter of fact, hotels that have encouraged the right kind of camps find that they themselves have benefitted, as, after the novelty wears off, many campers prefer hotel life, while others vary tent life by stops of a week or more at hotels. Many campers who called at the State of Maine Publicity Bureau last summer said that they came to Maine merely to tour around at that time and inspect the various resort sections so that they might select a hotel or camp in which to locate for this summer's vacation. Others used their camping outfits merely for occasional night camping, spending most of the time at hotels. And these were obviously people whose means would permit of their staying at hotels during all of their vacations, had they been so inclined—in no way people of the "tin can" variety of tourist.

Illustrative of the manner in which these camps may be of benefit to a community is the case of a prominent chemist of Massachusetts, who recently wrote the Maine Publicity Bureau that last year he went on a four weeks' camping trip with his wife and his son, who is a Boy Scout leader, and spent over eight hundred dollars; and that it really cost him more than if he had stopped at hotels, as they spent a lot of money at village stores and otherwise. Also, as he said, it gave him an opportunity to see the more remote sections of Maine in which suitable hotels are not always found.

That the State of Maine is eager to insure the proper conduct of these camps is evidenced by the fact that at a meeting of the State Public Health Council, held in May, the whole question of Community Motor Camps was gone into, and rules and regulations were passed relating to sanitation of automobile camps which provide for the inspection of all camping places. These camps must provide a suitable water supply and other sanitary arrangements which must be kept in a manner satisfactory to the State Department of Health.

Maine does want the right kind of motor camps, and if the general public, town officers, boards of health, and camp owners, those who really control the situation, will all co-operate in the establishment of well-regulated camps, and in the enforcement of their very simple and reasonable regulations, then our State's motoring camps will be what they should be: one more delightful feature added to the already well-known and varied attractions of the State of Maine.

DRINK PLENTY OF WATER

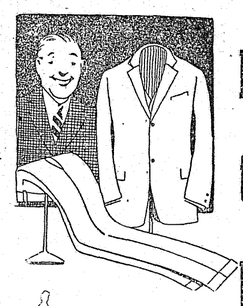
The 'Common expression, "a dried-up old man" has no basis in fact, and the athlete who claims to be "as hard as nails" is really like a sponge.

For says Dr Fisk, a medical director of Life Extension Institute, in a recent paper on the amount of water we should drink each day, the water content of the human body in old age is from 81.2 to 84.8 per cent., as compared with 75 to 80 per cent. in earlier life, and the athlete's muscles really are 76 per cent. water.

About six glasses daily is a fair average, Dr. Fisk says, unless hot weather or violent exercise makes one perspire freely And he also scouts the theory that fluids taken with the meals interfere with the digestion. On the contrary, he declares, water stimulates the gastric juice and aids digestion.

Scientists at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research who recently made exhaustive tests of the effect of carbonation on disease germs in water and beverages, discovered that carbonic gas—the gas which puts the bubbles in bottled carbonated beverages, commonly known as soda water—also makes such beverages the safest drink.

Miss Jane Johnson, since she bought a car, doesn't walk at all except when she has a nightmare.



If it's any one of these things that's bothering you - - -

If it's the fear that we haven't the exact suit or shade you want—forget it—for we have.

It it's the dread of paying a fancy price for the article that hits your fancy—forget it—for we haven't one fancy price in the house.

If you are sort of bashful about coming here for the first time—forget it—because we are as easy to get acquainted with as a candidate for office!

HOME PRIDE

"You live in the same place you always did?" was asked a man the other day.

"Yes, in the same old hole," he replied.

The answer was typical of the man. He called home a "hole" and it was "hole" because he could see nothing else in it.

It has always been a hole to him and hasn't vision enough to see its possibilities.

There are not many people like this in Norway, but there are far more than there should be, simply because they have taken the wrong view of life and their job.

They represent a type who doubtless have suffered some dissapointment, some fancied wrong, and they have brooded over it until everything looks dark. They fail to see a bright spot any place in the future.

Home and all that it means depends upon the viewpoint. If we get the proper perspective, home is something more than a hole and we take a just pride in making it respectable.

A humble home may be made just as attractive as a home on which money is lavished. It may be beautiful in the exact degree to which we give time and thought to it.

Pride in our community, our county, state and nation begins with home pride and those who take a justificable pride in the place they live can be put down as good citizens.

The man who enjoys his work, his family and good health, has already arrived in heaven. Meaning to say that a part of heaven is on earth for the man who has the right mental attitude. P. S.: A part of hell is also on earth.

Howard Young's bungalow on Marston Street has been painted.

The postmaster and male assistants have had the hair clipped from their craniums in a spirit of "follow the leader." One in the crew started the fad and others followed. Mrs. Effie Akers has thus far resisted the tempter. As school kids when our heads needed a "monkey shave" there was something hunting for free parking space. A Norway physician jokingly told the crew if clipping was not effective, try kerosene shampoo. One thing is certain, the victims will never reach the blue ribbons in a beauty show.

The concert by the Norway-Paris band Monday evening, attracted several hundred people and filled Main and side streets with automobiles. The band occupied chairs on George Robertson's lawn at the corner fo Deering street and lights were arranged for the occasion. Frank Knapp of Gray, who is coaching the band, was leader and rendered a fine trumpet solo with band accompaniment. Many not able to find places outside the noise zone created by street traffic, missed all but the loudest passages in the well rendered program.

The band concert Monday evening cost Gladys Barker seven dollars, the amount she lost on Main Street. Two bills, a five and a two were carried loose and escaped during the excitement.

SUMMER TIME IS EARNING TIME

for thousands of students. It is not all vacation for those who really want to get ahead. A good savings balance by Fall is proof of time well used. And it comes in handy later for Christmas money, or new clothes, or for the college fund which may be needed some day. There's a pass book and a hearty welcome here for the student who is determined to save part of his earnings.

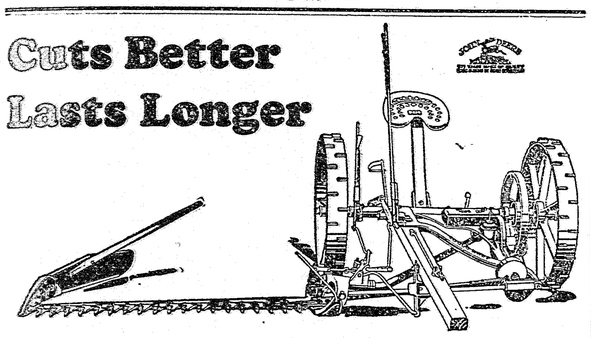
More than Fifty Years of Service

Cuts Better
Lasts Longer



You will appreciate the John Deere Mower the moment you see it in action. You will notice particularly its simplicity, its great cutting power and the ease with which it is handled. These advantages, combined with the extra years of service it gives, makes the John Deere a mighty profitable mower investment.

The flexibility of the cutter bar on the John Deere fits it for use in rough, uneven fields or for weed-cutting on roadsides—this feature you will like.

SIZES: John Deere No. 1 regular frame mower—3-½, 4-½ and 5-ft. cut. John Deere No. 2 big frame mower for severe cutting and field conditions—4-½, 5, 6 and 7-ft. cut.

JOHN DEERE MOWER
The Mower with the Balanced Gears

The driving gears on the John Deere are balanced—one set offsets the thrust of the other set. This eliminates side wear and strain. This mower transmits maximum power to the high grade carefully-fitted knife—that's why the John Deere does a better job of cutting and pulls lighter.

Another feature—if after years of use, lag develops in the cutter bar, this can be taken out—the bar is aligned by a simple eccentric adjustment. The John Deere handles easily. The bar can be raised high with the foot lever to pass over ordinary obstructions. With the hand lever an extremely high lift can be secured quickly and easily.

It's no job to keep the John Deere in good running order. All parts are easily replaced; adjustments easily made—its simplicity is a real feature.

Be sure to see this mower before you buy. It's the best mower we have ever seen.

Harriett Isabelle Dunham Dyke

The subject of this sketch, formerly H. Isabelle Chute of Otisfield, passed away at her late home, 24 Gilman street, Portland, on Sunday, the 22d inst., after a long and painful illness.

Mrs. Dyke was born in Otisfield, the daughter of the late Edwin and Dorcas Chute. She married James Edgar Dunham of Norway, by whom she had several children. Only one survives, Almon Dunham of Portland. Some years after the decease of her husband, Mrs. Dunham married Fred Dyke of Portland by whom she was tenderly cared for during her long illness. She leaves a son, Geo. Dyke, who lives at home; also a brother, M. A. Chute of Townsend, Mass., and one sister, Mrs. Addie Brock of West Paris, who nursed her during the last of her illness.

Mrs. Dyke was confined to her bed but a short time, going about, though a great sufferer, till near the end. She retained consciousness to the last and spoke loving words to her family and mentioned other relatives. She remarked, "I am going home, and I am glad." Her devoted, christian life, her patience through suffering, her love for her family and faithfulness to her home are worthy of imitation.

Funeral services were held at her late residence, Tuesday afternoon the pastor of the Deering Congregational Church, with which she was affiliated, officiating. Mrs. Waden and Mrs. Conners, close friends of the deceased, rendered two appropriate duets. The casket was entirely covered by beautiful flowers besides many other floral tributes surrounding it, tokens of love for the deceased.

Many relatives from a distance were present as also friends from Massachusetts where Mrs. Dyke resided some years and won many close friends.

Interment was in Forest City Cemetery where a most impressive commitment service was rendered.

HOW THIS WOMAN GOT STRENGTH

Put Up 300 Quarts Fruit, 500 Glasses Jelly and Took Care of Four Children

Norwalk, Iowa.—"I have been meaning for some time to write and tell you how much good your medicine has done me. When I started to take it I was almost bed fast and would have been in bed all the time if I had had any one to care for my children. There was so much swelling and pain that I could hardly take a step. I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and found that so healing. I am not entirely well yet for I was in bad shape when I started your medicine, but I am so much better that I am not afraid to recommend it, and I think if I keep on taking it, it will cure me. I have done my work all alone this summer, caring for four children, and I canned 300 quarts of fruit and made 500 glasses of jelly, so you see I must be better. I feel pretty good all the time and I am glad to tell others about the medicine."—Mrs. C. J. WENNERMARK, Box 141, Norwalk, Iowa.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from female troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Grange Session

Pleasant Valley Grange, West Bethel, entertained Bethel Grange Tuesday evening, June 24th, and forty-five members responded to the invitation. There were also present four members of Norway Grange, one from Paris Grange, two from Franklin and one from Winthrop Grange, Shelburne, N. H.

Worthy Master Charles McInnis opened the meeting and a short business session followed, after which the Bethel Grange team conferred the third and fourth degrees in an interesting and impressive manner on Henry Fernald and Mrs. Bertha Harding.

The work was followed by a fine program; the principle features were a farce, "Harmony Junction", which was given by four brothers who certainly "took" their parts. The irregularities of the trains made it rather confusing for a fussy passenger who was consoled by the station agent. One poor lone tramp got the bracelets put on after scaring a negro half to death, a laughable number. A humorous reading, "Grandmother's Letter," by Sister Bertha Mundt; Remarks by F. E. Russell, Master of Bethel Grange; story by Brother Ira Hickford; Holman Day's "Toast to Maine" by Sister A. E. K. Grover, Norway Grange.

At this time it was announced that there was to be a "public" initiation in the lodge of (what the secretary so aptly termed) the aborigines of the wild and wooly old time "Gander Corner" locally known as the "Order of Boof-a-los." The regalia was marvelous as to colors, the headresses of the several officers were very tasteful creations. The station to station instructions kept the lone candidate coming or going all right. The whole thing was a scream from start to finish. We speak at length of it as it was an original play given by the brothers who deserve much credit.

Remarks for the good of the Order were made by Sister Ella Copeland, Bethel Grange. Brother F. E. Russell moved thanks be given Pleasant Valley Grange for the invitation to meet with them and spoke of the great benefits derived from these get-together meetings. Worthy Master McInnis was watchful of the comfort of the visiting members. In thanking the team for their work all voiced the sentiment of "Come again."

Ice cream, saltines and a variety of cake was served in the dining room which brought to a close an evening of pleasure and profit.

Adrian Grover announced the date of the Pomona field day which will be held at South Paris, August 3rd.

THE C.M.P. DIVIDEND POSTMAN

$148,768.39 In Quarterly Dividends Goes Out to 11,903 Stockholders

DIVIDEND checks amounting to $148,768.39 were mailed out Tuesday morning, July 1, to the 11,903 stockholders of Central Maine Power Company as quarterly dividends on their Preferred Stock.

C. M. P. Pays 71st Consecutive Dividend

For the 71st consecutive time—18 years—the C. M. P. Postman has taken the money that Central Maine Power Company has earned from Maine rivers and distributed it amongst Maine people.

Not to a few rich investors in Boston, New York or Philadelphia but to the Maine farmer, the Maine school teacher, the Maine merchant, the Maine doctor, lawyer, mechanic and laborer.

This money has been spent with your local merchants; or deposited in local banks; or invested in local property. Do you see where YOUR town benefits every time Central Maine Power Company pays one of its quarterly dividends?

And isn't it better that this money SHOULD be spent or deposited or invested, not in some other state, but in local communities?

That's why Central Maine Power Company, when it must build the additional dams, power houses, transmission lines to furnish over a third of the people of Maine with MORE lights and MORE power, goes to the people of Maine—to you and your neighbor—to finance this work.

If you are not already a stockholder then you are not back of the Company that is doing more to build Maine than any other enterprise; and you are not getting your share of the dividends that rightly belong to ALL Maine people.

Then why not at least send in the coupon to become fully acquainted with this Company—what it has done and plans to do for Maine—and how you may get in line for one of the next dividend checks on October 1?

THE C.M.P. DIVIDEND POSTMAN

$148,768.39 In Quarterly Dividends Goes Out to 11,903 Stockholders

DIVIDEND checks amounting to $148,768.39 were mailed out Tuesday morning, July 1, to the 11,903 stockholders of Central Maine Power Company as quarterly dividends on their Preferred Stock.

C. M. P. Pays 71st Consecutive Dividend

For the 71st consecutive time—18 years—the C. M. P. Postman has taken the money that Central Maine Power Company has earned from Maine rivers and distributed it amongst Maine people.

Not to a few rich investors in Boston, New York or Philadelphia but to the Maine farmer, the Maine school teacher, the Maine merchant, the Maine doctor, lawyer, mechanic and laborer.

This money has been spent with your local merchants; or deposited in local banks; or invested in local property. Do you see where YOUR town benefits every time Central Maine Power Company pays one of its quarterly dividends?

And isn't it better that this money SHOULD be spent or deposited or invested, not in some other state, but in local communities?

That's why Central Maine Power Company, when it must build the additional dams, power houses, transmission lines to furnish over a third of the people of Maine with MORE lights and MORE power, goes to the people of Maine—to you and your neighbor—to finance this work.

If you are not already a stockholder then you are not back of the Company that is doing more to build Maine than any other enterprise; and you are not getting your share of the dividends that rightly belong to ALL Maine people.

Then why not at least send in the coupon to become fully acquainted with this Company—what it has done and plans to do for Maine—and how you may get in line for one of the next dividend checks on October 1?

Central Maine Power Company

Augusta, Maine

COUPON

Central Maine Power Co.,
Augusta, Maine.

I am interested to know more about your Company—its present plans—and how I may share in its earnings. I understand that this does not obligate me in the least.

BATES—WEST PARIS

The Pageant

The pageant, "The 18th Amendment Forever" given under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., last Sunday evening at the Universalist Church, was very good, considering the short time of preparation. There were over 30 young people who took part in it and it was done with only two rehearsals.

The pageant portrayed the present situation of the subject. Columbia (Mae Briggs) received a company of seventeen American people representing the various businesses of the country led by patriotism (Lula Herrick) and Boy Scout (Robert Penley) who presented to her a treasure, the 18th Amendment, which she locks in her strong chest, the Constitution U. S. and they all go out and leave it unguarded, when creeps in three robbers, Saloon Keeper (Gerry Emery), Brewer (Myron Herrick), and Whiskey Distiller (Harold Buck), but just as they are about to steal the treasure, in come some young Prohibition National Guards led by Captain (Albert Martin) who captures the robbers and save the treasurer and then tell who they are, give their yell and sing a song to the tune of the popular song, "Till We Meet Again." They are very pretty, dressed in white, with red, white and blue sashes, and carrying flags.

The first group were also dressed in character. Columbia, too, in the usual costume, and received compliments. There were not many present on accound of the hard shower just before time to commence, keeping many away. They have been asked to repeat it, and may sometime.

There were three essays read after the pageant, chosen one from each of the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th grades at school as the best written on cigarettes, who received prizes in money. They were Gerry Emery, Dorothy Buck, and Hattie Bane. The fourth from the 7th grade, Marion Hill, could not come, on account of the rain.
